University of Warwick
2021: Issue 1

Welcome to our first newsletter!

Here at Unitemps, we are always looking for ways to improve our services for candidates. One of the areas that we are particularly keen to improve is the level of communication and support provided to our network.

With this in mind, we would like to welcome you to the first edition of our newsletter. Published three times each year, we aim to provide job seeking tips, information on new contracts and insights from our community.

As a new initiative, your feedback is incredibly important to us. If you can, please take a few minutes to fill in our readership survey. Your contributions will allow us to develop new content and share the most helpful information.

Lorna Bytheway, Recruitment Services Director

Regional recognition for reducing COVID-19

Unitemps at the University of Warwick has received high praise from Worcestershire County Council for its role in reducing the spread of COVID-19 across the West Midlands.

Through the rapid deployment of temporary staff across multiple lateral flow testing sites, Unitemps has made a tangible impact on reducing the spread of COVID-19 in the local area.

The Council's Director of Public Health, Dr Kathryn Cobain, personally thanked Unitemps for the support, partnership and collaboration provided at this crucial time in the battle against the virus. Most notably, Dr Cobain recognised the efforts of Andrea Skelly, Business Development Manager, for recruiting an operational workforce within just 24 hours.

In turn, Andrea is keen to acknowledge the willingness, flexibility and expertise of the temporary workers recruited for these assignments. It simply wouldn't have been possible to make contributions as significant as these without them.

New partnership with Warwickshire County Council

We are pleased to share that Unitemps has made a successful bid to join Warwickshire County Council's preferred suppliers list (second tier). This exciting partnership will allow us to promote a wide range of new job opportunities throughout Warwickshire.

The vacancies will cover many areas, from administration through to project management and event support. The contract types on offer will also vary; they may include temporary, permanent, graduate and internship opportunities, depending on the Council's operational needs.

Now live: visit our new website!

We are delighted to announce the launch of our new website! Following many months of planning and development, our redesigned website was released to the Unitemps community last month. We hope to provide a more user-friendly experience for candidates through improved navigation and information architecture.

To further enhance your experience as a Unitemps candidate, we have refreshed our dedicated information hub. This much-improved section provides tailored information for candidates who are working through Unitemps at the University of Warwick or Millennium Point, Birmingham.

From filling in timesheets through to joining a pension scheme or claiming holiday pay, this practical section includes the answers to all of our frequently asked questions.

Furthermore, the team has produced a new career advice support page to help you secure your next role. Whether it's interview guidance or application tips, we have a host of resources to meet candidates' job seeking needs.

Emma Johnson, Marketing Manager, commented:

'The new Unitemps website aims to provide you with the content you need quickly, from guidance on virtual interviews through to the details of your next pay date. Our team is continually developing new content to support your career development. We hope you find the site useful and would welcome your feedback and suggestions.'

Candidate spotlight: Introducing Mark Hatfield

Since December, Mark has worked through Unitemps as a Lateral Flow Testing Manager at Worcestershire County Council. Following a promotion early on, he soon became responsible for overseeing the Council's lateral flow testing initiatives, managing numerous testing sites across the County.

Having spent many years in the travel industry, followed by two years of working in industrial vending solutions, like many others, Mark found himself unemployed due to the COVID-19 outbreak. However, determined not to let the situation hold him back, he took the opportunity on short notice, joining Unitemps and pursuing a new role at the Council. Mark has more than demonstrated his aptitude for the role, and has since secured a fixed-term contract, enabling him to continue in a position that he truly enjoys.

Mark's top tip for job seekers is to remind them not to give up! There are jobs out there, and there are opportunities for enthusiastic people. Have a desire to learn, and be open minded about your next role.

Candidate spotlight: Introducing Anamika Tarafdar

Over the last few months Anamika has enjoyed working through Unitemps in her new role as an HR Administrator at the University of Warwick. Anamika first came across Unitemps more than five years ago, when a friend introduced her to the on-campus team shortly after relocating to the UK.

While Anamika found a job elsewhere initially, her circumstances have changed considerably over the last 12-15 months, following the exciting arrival of her daughter and the disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. In response to these recent changes, Anamika sought the help of Unitemps team members, Jess and Nina, who listened carefully to her working requirements and found her a new home-based role with family-friendly hours.

Anamika truly enjoys working with her new team and feels very lucky to have found the role. Her advice for job seekers is to keep trying. While the disappointment of not securing a new job first time round is difficult, remember that you do have a lot to offer, and that there is a job out there for you!
